

Water vole

The water vole species action plan is currently undergoing a comprehensive review by the Environment Agency and will be published on this web site in the future.

In the meantime...

The water vole is a Species of Principle Importance in England (NERC Act, S.41).

You can view the current national BAP targets on the Biodiversity Action Reporting System (BARS).